HUMAN ANATOMY LABORATORY

BEST PRACTICES

To ensure a safe, professional, and effective learning environment, the following best practices must be adhered to by all students and staff within the Human Anatomy Laboratory.

1. Safety and Hygiene

All individuals must wear appropriate laboratory attire, including a lab coat, gloves, and closed footwear. Hand hygiene is essential; therefore, hands should be washed before and after handling anatomical models or materials. Eating, drinking, and the use of mobile phones are strictly prohibited inside the laboratory to maintain safety and cleanliness.

2. Professional Handling of Models and Instruments

Anatomical models, skeletal systems, charts, and dissection instruments must be handled with care and respect. Instruments should be used only for their intended purpose and returned to their designated locations after use. Any damage to models, bones, or instruments must be reported immediately to the laboratory in-charge to ensure timely maintenance and replacement.

3. Clean and Organized Work Environment

Students are expected to maintain a clean and organized workspace at all times. Waste materials such as gloves, tissues, and paper should be disposed of in the appropriate biomedical waste bins. At the end of every session, all materials, models, and equipment must be neatly arranged and returned to their proper storage areas.

4. Discipline and Professional Conduct

A disciplined and respectful environment is essential for effective learning. Students must maintain silence, avoid unnecessary movement, and follow all instructions provided by faculty or laboratory staff. No laboratory material, including models or instruments, may be removed from the premises without prior authorization.

5. Documentation and Academic Preparedness

Students should come prepared for each practical session and maintain proper documentation of observations, diagrams, and notes. Active participation in demonstrations and discussions is encouraged to enhance comprehension. Any queries or uncertainties should be promptly clarified with faculty members to ensure accurate learning.

2. Treatment Modalities:

Exercise Prescription: Tailored exercise programs to improve strength, flexibility, and functional capacity. Manual Therapy: Hands-on techniques such as joint mobilization and soft tissue manipulation to improve mobility and reduce pain. Posture Correction: Addressing posture-related issues contributing to musculoskeletal problems.

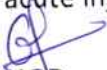

3. Rehabilitation:

Post-Surgical Rehabilitation: Guiding patients through rehabilitation after orthopedic surgeries. Injury Prevention: Providing strategies and exercises to prevent musculoskeletal injuries.

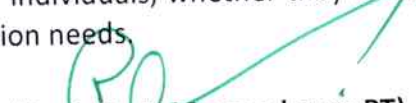

4. Patient Education:

Self-Management: Empowering patients with knowledge and tools for self-care and prevention. Lifestyle Modification: Recommending changes to daily activities or ergonomics to support musculoskeletal health.
